August 8, 2011

Aggressive has just concluded the first cycle of its Agency Continuing Education program in the state of Texas. Since June 2011, 200+ agency employees and managers have attended workshops in the widespread Texas towns of EL Paso, Houston, San Antonio, Austin, Tyler, Arlington and Corpus Christie.

Course material in Ethics as well as the County Mutual Class & Exam were the topics of the initial program which was conducted by Danny Cano and Chris Heinemeyer, members of Aggressive's Marketing Team.

Response to the program was enthusiastic and Aggressive is encouraged to continue and expand the program in the future.

Additional information about the program's next dates and locations will be emailed to Aggressive producers as they are determined.

Besides being eligible for continuing education credits, Aggressive wants to provide its producers information and news within the insurance industry and strengthen its relationships with its valuable business partners.
